

CHRISTMAS IN SOCIETY'S REALM

Richmond's Smart Set Will Stir Itself During the Glad Holidays.

RINGING OF WEDDING BELLS

Attractive Richmond Lady Now Living in Kentucky Marries—Dances.

Marjorie and Mistletoe.
Marjorie and Mistletoe!
Rarer combination
Never stirred man's heart, I trow,
With sweeter expectation
Shining spray of mistletoe,
Such supernal blisses
Snowy beads a-closer,
Lips that lure and eyes that glow
With a June day luster!
Marjorie and Mistletoe,
Both suggesting hisses,
Chosen by who dares (or goes)
Such supernal blisses
Craven he, a dillard slow,
Needing small condolence;
Wise the wight, where kisses grow,
Who plucks them no less volent!
Sleet may beat and swirling snow
Blur the darkened window;
Crouching winds, now high, now low,
Chant a shrill crescendo;
What reck I, where dark eyes glow,
Of starless skies and stormy?
Marjorie and Mistletoe
Makes endless summer for me!

Christmas Gayeties.
The Christmas week is to be very gay, many entertainments and several weddings appearing on its calendar. Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Starke will keep Christmas to-morrow in true southern style, by being at home to their friends in the afternoon. Entertainments in Christmas colors will prevail and the occasion will mark the day in truly delightful fashion. Miss Branch's "Babes in Toyland" party, scheduled for the twenty-eighth, is exciting the greatest amount of interest among the young set of Richmond society. Mr. Godwin Boykin expects to attend as "Buster Brown" and bring the house down. Mr. Leslie Jennings has been at great pains to arrange a becoming pink and white doll's toilet, finished with blonde curled wig, the curls held in place with pink ribbon. The "Gold Dust Twins" will be in evidence, and a Jack Horner pie will be a feature of the evening's program. The party is to be given in honor of Miss Martha Bowie, who will be assisted by Miss Louise McAdams in doing the honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Middleton Cannon are to entertain Thursday evening from 9 to 11 in honor of Mrs. Cannon's debutante sister, Miss Nannie Garland Wadsworth, who is a deservedly popular figure on this winter's debutante list. Mrs. Frederic W. Scott's hunt breakfast, luncheon and card party will be the event of New Year's Eve. The Cornell Glee Club will appear at the Academy of Music Thursday evening next, under the auspices of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities. The list of patronesses for the evening is a brilliant one. In regard to the appearance of the club, it has been said that for eighteen years it has studied the art of amusing big audiences, and the result is said to be a concert that keeps the audience on the edge of their seats, laughing and weeping alternately and wondering what in the world is coming next. One barely has time to recover from a side-splitting laugh over some grotesque antic when he suddenly finds the musicians have shifted to a pathetic little ballad that makes the eye glisten in sympathy. Perhaps no selections are so absolutely irresistible as the Glee Club's fantastic medleys arranged especially for its own use. In these extracts of but a line or two from more than a dozen familiar songs, old and new, are pierced together with startling effect. A difficult change of key is usually accompanied by an abrupt change in theme and sentiment, until the strain proves too great and the audience gives way to a hearty burst of merriment.

Miss Lucy Clair Atkinson will be at home in honor of the Old Dominion Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Tuesday next, from 5 to 6 P. M. Miss Atkinson will be assisted by the officers of the chapter and decorations will be in Revolutionary colors.

Strong—Montgomery.
Miss Lina McCormick Montgomery, whose marriage to Dr. William Mason Strong will take place Tuesday in Grace Street Presbyterian Church, will be attended by Miss Susan McCormick, of Lexington, Va., in maid of honor. Dr. Madison Maxwell, of Davidson College, N. C., will be best man. The other attendants will include Mr. L. G. Burruss, Mr. A. B. Montgomery, of Richmond; Mr. S. M. Dunlap, of Lexington, and Dr. D. M. McIntosh, of Grace.

Church decorations will be in pinks and white flowers, and Mr. Wetzel will direct the music. The bride will be gowned in white chiffon over tulle. Her veil will be caught with orange blossoms, and she will carry a bride's roses.

Allen—Readin.

The wedding of Miss Julia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Readin, will be celebrated Wednesday, December 28th, in St. Peter's Cathedral, at 8 o'clock A. M.

Downer—Chalkley.
The Hopkinsville, Kentucky, "New Era" under date of December 16th, has a most interesting mention of the wedding of Mrs. Jeanie Harrison Chalkley to Mr. James Waller Downer. Mrs. Downer is the sister of Mrs. Howard Hoge and Mrs. Dana Rucker, of this city, and until the last few years lived in Richmond, where she is still well remembered and has many friends. The account of her wedding says:

Mr. James Waller Downer and Mrs.

Store Closed All Day To-Morrow.

A Christmas Greeting.

One year ago this month we entered our new building. During its construction, and at the time we took possession of it, we were often met with the questions, "Do you think it will pay?" "Is Richmond large enough for such a store?"

We had faith in two things: First, in ourselves, which meant the store, with its merchandise, proprietors and faithful, intelligent employees.

Second, we believed that Richmond was ready and waiting for just such a store as we now have.

The great increase in business for the year that is just closing is evidence to us that we were correct in our belief.

It has been patent to everybody during the past twelve months, that the greatest store in the South has been appreciated to the highest degree by the people of the greatest city of the South.

Our patrons and employees have our best wishes for a merry Christmas time and a happy and prosperous New Year.

Miller & Rhoads

MISS LEITER'S WEDDING.

Miss Leiter's wedding to Henry Molyneux Paget Howard, nineteenth Earl of Suffolk and twelfth Earl of Berkshire, will take place quietly at the Leiter home in Washington, D. C., December 27th. Only the families of the two contracting parties will witness the ceremony. Shortly afterward the Earl and his bride will sail for London and afterward join Lord and Lady Curzon in India, where the groom-to-be is aide-de-camp to the Viceroy.

Miss Leiter is a beautiful woman and an intrepid horsewoman. Some years ago she followed the Quorn hounds in England and was distinguished for her pluck and nerve in the field.

The blood of the two kings runs in the veins of the young Earl. He is descended directly from Edward I., one of the Plantagenets, and from Philip the Bold of France. He is a descendant also in direct male line from Hereward, the great Saxon patriot. In addition to his rank and his wealth this fortunate peer is only twenty-seven years old and an officer in the British army.

The Earl of Suffolk's vast estate consists of Charlton Park, a fine Elizabethan mansion, in the midst of 10,000 acres in Wiltshire.

ing and accomplished young women in Hopkinsville society, and her devoted friends are limited only by the circle of her acquaintances. She is equally admired and popular in Richmond, where her former home. Lovely, cultured and graceful, with sparkling wit, mellowed by sweet sympathy, she has won the love and regard of every one. She is a favorite member of the As You Like It Club. The fortunate groom-to-be is one of Kentucky's leading lawyers, and a prominent in social and literary circles as he is in his profession. He is a gentleman of broad intellect and studious habits, a speaker of rare eloquence, a man of affairs and fine business ability. Mr. Downer formerly represented the Christian-Hopkins district in the Senate of Kentucky. He is a leading member of the Atholton society. There has seldom been a marriage in Hopkinsville that has given society so much delight and good wishes and congratulations are universal.

Mr. Downer has purchased the residence of the late Stephen B. Price, corner of South Main and Fifteenth Streets, and will be given possession of the beautiful home on the first of January. Mr. and Mrs. Downer will return to Hopkinsville in time to be the guests of honor at a reception which will be given by President and Mrs. Harrison at Bethel College, on the evening of December 27th.

New Year's Night.

One of the special features of the Jefferson Club's New Year's night entertainment will be the singing of Mme. Eleanor Marx, dramatic soprano, New York city. Mme. Marx studied in Paris under Paul Maréchal for nearly two years, and later with Edward A. Hayes, the well known American. In Germany Mme. Marx studied the German interpretation of their own music, with the director of the opera at Mannheim, Professor F. Lange. Her recent successes in New York and other cities have been instantaneous. She will sing at the Jefferson Club the difficult aria from the opera "Der Freischütz."

chultz," entitled "L'oise, l'oise frommo Walse," with full orchestral accompaniment, and such songs as "Spring Song," by Wolf; "Madrigal," by Chailhond; "I See Thee, Love, in Every Flower," by Abt; "Swallows," by Elphing; "Sands O'Dea," by Clay, and other airs. Other artists from New York city, together with a magnificent band, will tend to make it one of the finest and most elaborate entertainments in the history of this social organization.

Pupils' Recital.

The following young ladies performed at Mr. Hahr's musical theory class on last Wednesday: Misses Sarah Baughman, Susie Bolton, Louise Crump, Margaret Gray, Lucy Gude, Elsie Ingram, Panny Lewis, Susan Macomber, Fanny Miller, Louise Miller, Martha Robinson and Helen Smith. Selections were played from Mendelssohn's Chopin, Wagner, Grieg, Paderewski, Scherzky, Thorne, Wollenhampes, etc. All the performers acquitted themselves with great credit, both as to technical finish and expression, and were warmly applauded.

Miss Zayde Brinckman and Mr. Hahr closed the recital with a spirited performance of an overture by Mozart.

Interesting Announcement.

An interesting item to Richmond social circles is (but known to a few) the engagement of Miss Elizabeth French Crutchfield, of Fredericksburg, Va., to her cousin, Mr. John Minor Gatewood, of Boston.

Miss Crutchfield is the niece of Colonel Richard Maury, of No. 15 East Franklin Street, and during her visits to him has received many pleasant social attentions in Richmond. She is a very attractive young lady.

Cycle Einstein.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Einstein, of Cleveland, Ohio, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Stella, to Mr. Sydney Cycle, a well known and highly esteemed young business man of this city.

Christmas at Club.

Next Monday being Christmas Day, the Woman's Club will be closed.

Ten tables were engaged on the occasion of the second, whilst tournament at the club, which was a brilliant affair. Decorations were in white and red ribbons, Salads, coffee and chocolate were served by Mrs. James Werth, Mrs. Thomas B. Scott and Mrs. R. Cecil Garlick.

Mr. John C. Robertson, of Forest Hill, the chairman for the Woman's Club Art Committee for this year, has been so fortunate as to secure Mr. J. William Fossick, of New York, former secretary of the National Society of Mural Painters and member of the New York Architectural Association, who will talk to the club on Monday, January 2d, on "Sketches from an Artist's Note-Book." Mr. Fossick's address is in his home, 1015 Broadway, New York, and he is giving his coming to Richmond a matter of much prospective pleasure to all concerned.

Busy Bees and Brook Avenue.

The "Busy Bees," a juvenile organization, working earnestly in behalf of Brook Avenue Kindergarten, held a successful sale in one of the fashionable West End homes on Wednesday of last week.

The little vice-president, only three years old, presided with much dignity, and the infant treasurer was kept busy making change as pretty articles were rapidly bought.

"Busy Bees" will take great pleasure in spending for the Brook-Avenue Kindergarten the sum realized from the sale. Their leader will take the Bees to the Christmas tree at Brook Avenue Tuesday morning, in order that they may see and feel an interest in the Kindergarten children for whom they are working.

Tuesday German.

The Christmas dance of the Tuesday Club will be given in Masonic Temple Tuesday evening, December 27th, from 9 to 12 o'clock.

The Children's Ball.

The children's ball, to be given under the auspices of Commonwealth Chapter, D. A. R., on January 8th, the anniversary of George Washington's wedding, promises to be a great success. Many tickets have already been secured by "grow-ups," who are taking much interest in the entertainment.

Invitations which are quite artistic, in red, white and blue, the Revolutionary colors, will be sent out immediately after Christmas.

The children who will appear in tableaux and who will also dance will wear colonial costume, and will present a very lovely picture in the stately dance, which Mrs. James Welch has been rehearsing for some time.

A number of the patronesses and chaperones of the ball have decided to appear in colonial costumes with powdered hair, thus adding much to the picturesque effect of the occasion.

Mrs. Deane Mauley, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, has been ably assisted by other ladies of the committee, who are Mrs. H. J. Purcell, Mrs. Dullam Barkadate, Mrs. C. W. P. Brock, Mrs. A. E. Hunt, Miss Hostelex, Miss Bennie Hunter, Miss Morrison.

Ladies who will act as patronesses of the ball are Mrs. J. Taylor Bilyson, Mrs. Christopher Tompkins, Mrs. Herbert Chubb, Mrs. J. Allen Cadell, Mrs. L. R. Cashell, Mrs. Albert Bruce, Mrs. C. W. P. Brock, Mrs. Randolph Cannon, Mrs. Charles Whitlock, Mrs. W. T. Robbins, Mrs. Mann S. Valentine, Mrs. Fattie Ben, Taliferro, Mrs. Charles M. Fennell, Mrs. Luther Warren, Mrs. Garret Wall, Mrs. Deane Mauley.

Class Recital.

On Friday afternoon, December 23d, Miss Grace B. Cunningham entertained 175 pupils at her small class of music pupils at her home, No. 192 east Franklin street. The following numbers were well rendered by the class:

1. Festival and Birthday Ball (Wm. Incho), Misses Pearl Crump and Lucille Williams.
2. In the Willowood (B. Sparrow), Master Victor Branch.
3. Ivy Leaf Schottische (Wm. E. Miller), Miss Pearl Crump.
4. The Doll's Dream (Eustis), Miss Lillian Watson.
5. Little May's Dream, Nocturne (Edward Renda), Miss Lucille Williams.
6. Gavotte (Louis Meyer), Master William Branch.
7. Meditation (Morrison), Miss Helen Gary Watson.
8. Gallant Heroes, March-Duet (B. Sparrow), Misses Helen Gray and Lillian Watson.

Mrs. Arthur Seddon and Miss Margaret Knowles delighted the pupils with several selections, and at the request of the pupils, as an encore, Miss Knowles sang "The Gingerbread Man," with telling effect upon the young pupils, who gave expression of their approval by enthusiastic clapping of hands. Miss Cunningham concluded the programme by playing the quartette from Rigolotto, transcribed by Franz Liszt.

Williams—Caldwell.

Mrs. Frances Caldwell, of Richmond, announces the engagement of her daughter, Eric, to Mr. Thomas Arendel Williams, of Columbus, Ga., the marriage to take place early in February, 1905, at Richmond, Va.

Miss Caldwell is the only daughter of Mrs. Frances Caldwell and the late Mr. Mitchell Caldwell. She is a native of North Carolina, but for some years her home has been in Richmond, Va. Miss Caldwell is a well known educator. She has been responsible positions in several Southern colleges, and until last June had been for seven years teacher of expression and physical culture in Elizabeth College, Charlotte, N. C.
